During AXA’s Annual Shareholders’ Meeting today, all resolutions recommended by the Management Board were approved by the shareholders, including:

- The payment of a € 1.20 dividend per share to be paid on April 29, 2008 (ex-dividend date April 24) – consequently, AXA will pay to its shareholders an aggregate amount equal to 2,472 million euros, reflecting the Group’s excellent performance last year, versus 2,218 million euros in 2006
- The appointment of François Martineau as member of the AXA Supervisory Board, assuming the vacancy left by Claude Bébéar’s departure from the Supervisory Board
- The appointment of Wendy Cooper as member of the AXA Supervisory Board representing the Group’s employee shareholders, replacing Jacques Tabourot whose mandate expired at the end of today’s annual Shareholders’ Meeting

The AXA Supervisory Board met at the end of the Shareholders’ Meeting and approved the following appointments:

- Jacques de Chateauvieux as the new Chairman of AXA’s Supervisory Board, replacing Claude Bébéar who was appointed Honorary Chairman. During the Supervisory Board of February 27, Claude Bébéar had announced his decision not to seek the renewal of his mandate as a member of the Supervisory Board upon expiration of his mandate, consistent with the principle that he has long defended of not renewing the mandate of Supervisory Board members older than 70 years of age
- Norbert Dentressangle as Vice-Chairman of the AXA Supervisory Board, replacing Jacques de Chateauvieux

Claude Bébéar said: “Eight years after having left the operational management of the AXA Group to Henri de Castries, I leave confident in our perspectives despite a difficult environment. I am convinced that Jacques de Chateauvieux, thanks to his large experience and his strong knowledge of our business, will succeed in driving the debates of the Supervisory Board and in working closely with the Management Board in order to lead AXA to new successes.”
